OUR WINE JOURNEY

The Pink Elephant is proud to work alongside Bancroft Wines who firmly believe their commitment and respect for the environment is reflected in the wines they sell. Bancroft seek out producers who farm organically and take a holistic approach to sustainability. From their portfolio, more than a quarter of their 190 producers are either certified organic or biodynamic and 90% are these small, family-owned producers who live and work on their farms.

Bancroft Wines Sustainability and Social Committee's

In 2021 Bancroft Wines appointed two internal teams reporting to the board: one to review their sustainability credentials, as well as measure their impact and take action to mitigate the overall impact they have on the environment; the second, a social committee to examine their social and ethical impact and how to improve their corporate social responsibility.

The Peter de Haan Charitable Trust

Bancroft Wines is connected to a broader engagement with sustainability. Commitment to sustainability guides everything that they do. Bancroft Wines' owner and noted philanthropist Peter De Haan is a sustainability advocate, who was awarded The Rothschild Medal for his outstanding contribution to nature conservation in the UK. Peter funds environmental projects through The Peter De Haan Charitable Trust. The Trust has already awarded £6m in grants for environmental projects; £3m is pledged for future projects.

All our event styling packages offer our clients the option to include any of the wines included in this menu which include a range of carefully selected South African Cap Classique sparklings, rosé, white and red wines. One pager documents for all wines on offer are available upon request. Complimentary wine glass hire is included when purchasing wines alongside any of our event styling packages, please refer to our Terms & Conditions included on our website in relation to responsible drinking.
